Germans Sustain Heavy Losses in Attack on Soviets

Large Forces of Tanks and Infantry Dent Red Army Lines North of Iasi in Romania

LONDON, May 30 (AP).—German forces north of Iasi, Romania, opened an attack today "with large forces of tanks and infantry," Moscow announced tonight, breaking a six weeks' lull on the main eastern front and denting the lines of the Red Army.

The broadcast Russian communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, called the break "an insignificant wedge into our defences," and said that it was obtained at the cost of "heavy losses in men and material."

"According to preliminary data our troops disabled or destroyed 50 enemy tanks and brought down 36 planes in the day's fighting," Moscow said in its nightly bulletin.

The Germans themselves, in their communique broadcast earlier in the day, made no mention of any ground fighting on the eastern front, but a later Berlin broadcast mentioned "heavy German air attacks today on the front areas in the Iasi area as well as on the enemy's rear communications." This broadcast claimed 49 Russian planes were shot down.

Aside from the German attack, the Soviet communique said there were no changes on other sectors of the front.

It was at Iasi that the Germans stopped the Russians' westward drive early in April. The Third Ukrainian Army of General Rodion Y. Malinovsky threw a bridgehead across the Prut River north of Iasi, April 3, and a week later succeeded in flanking the town, but then the attack bogged down.

Except for occasional counter-blows by the Germans, the enemies have remained deadlocked in almost stationary lines in that vicinity ever since.

There have been indications from both the Russians and Germans that a new outbreak of action along the Eastern Front might be expected at any time to coincide with the Allied invasion of Europe from the west.

The Germans have clamied that the Russians were concentrating large forces in the area preparatory to a smash southward through the Galatz defile toward the Danube and Ploesti oil fields.

Fighting northwest of Vitebsk was reported by Moscow in the midnight supplement to the communique and in this outbreak the Russians said they beat back a German drive, killing 400 and disabling six tanks.

Air and sea strikes at German shipping in Narva Bay also were described in the Soviet supplement.

Bombers of the Red Banner Baltic Fleet sank three mine sweepers, a high-speed landing barge and a motor patrol boat today and tonight Russian warships attacked three mine sweepers—sinking two and inflicting heavy damage on the other, Moscow said.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

LONDON, May 30.—Heavy fighting is in progress in the Velletri-Balmontone sector in Italy, and numerous German counter-attacks have been thrown back.

The Times special correspondent at the Anzio front cables:

"With the help of at least part of two divisions brought down from Northern Italy, Kesselring apparently is trying to organize resistance in front of Rome while he withdraws what is left of his troops from the Liri Valley into the mountains.

"The line which he had chosen for the defence of Rome is believed to have run through Ardea, Velletri and Valmontone to the Sabine Mountains.

"Broadly speaking, wherever Allied troops are beginning to approach that line they are meeting with stiffer resistance and with frequent counter-attacks.

"That is the case on the south-eastern face of the Alban Hills, where American troops are now fighting, roughly along the line of railway which runs through Velletri to join the main Rome-Naples line at Segni."

The Times' military correspondent states that of three German divisions which have been brought down from the north, at least one, the 278th, comes from Istria, where Tito's Partisans have been active in the past.

They can, however, make little if any use of Highway 6, east of Valmontone. Whether or not it has been actually reached by now, it may be considered virtually closed.

12 Flyers Killed In Plane Collision

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 30 (AP).—Twelve United States naval flyers [illegible] when a Wildcat fighter and a navy Liberator bomber collided in the air over Palomar Mountain, 65 miles north of here, the 11th Naval District announced tonight.

Four officers and eight enlisted men were aboard the planes.

A resulting brush fire burned 12 acres. Eleven men were aboard the bomber and one in the fighter.

Roosevelt Is Critical Of Franco

Aid to Nazis Not Cut Enough, He Says

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt expressed the opinion today that Spain's shipments of supplies to Germany have not yet been reduced enough while Mrs. Roosevelt indicated a belief that Prime Minister Churchill's attitude toward the Franco Government will not bind policy decisions of all the United Nations.

The Prime Minister last Wednesday spoke in the House of Commons what he himself called "kindly words" about Spain, saying that country had made a "contribution" to the United Nations' cause by resisting German pressure for an effort to take over Gibraltar and close the straits and by "ignoring" obviously gigantic Allied preparations there before the North African invasion. He indicated a hands-off policy on Spanish internal affairs.

Mr. Roosevelt, at a press conference, told reporters there essentially is no change in American relations with Spain but that the United States Government was working along day to day on the subject.

He said he did not want anyone to make an international incident out of what he said. None of the United Nations, he observed, is entirely satisfied. The Spaniards have been sending things to Germany, he said, and although the volume has been cut down it has not been cut down enough, in his mind.

Asked about Mr. Churchill's speech, Mrs. Roosevelt said at her press conference that it was "characteristic of Mr. Churchill." She added that what any one individual in the United Nations says or thinks "has to come into agreement with what all say or think before it becomes effective."

"You know he (Churchill) has thought a certain way for 60 years," Mrs. Roosevelt said, "and I don't think he wants to change. And that's the way he thinks on Spain."

Deny Evacuation

ISTANBUL, May 30 (AP).—The Russians have evacuated ten officials from their legation in Bulgaria, according to a report today from a traveler who came by the same train.

Soviet officials here said no high officials were brought out.

The traveler said the Russians left Bulgaria last Friday, a day after a reported Russian ultimatum to Bulgaria to quit Hitler's camp would have expired.

Forest Fires Still Raging

By The Canadian Press

Forest fires in Canada continued to wipe out thousands of acres of valuable timber last night with the worst situation prevailing in Ontario where eight blazes were raging out of control.

In Quebec, fires were reported out of control in the northern settlement at Chute Aux Autardes, where 20 settlers' homes were destroyed and in several other northeastern townships.

Alberta forestry officials said radio reports indicated increased hazard in northern sections of the province, especially in the Peace River district where two fires, previously under control, jumped fire lines driven by high winds.

New Brunswick forestry officials reported a fire in a heavily wooded area at Dalhousie was brought under control yesterday after raging unchecked for 48 hours and threatening to sweep the town. Two square miles of timberland were destroyed.

In Nova Scotia forest fires surged anew yesterday when fanned by a stiff wind burning through timber and menacing homes in several sections of the province. A blaze at Waverley, in Halifax County, was reported out of control after destroying hundreds of acres of forests.

There were no reports from British Columbia of fresh outbreaks between Prince George and the Yukon border where more than 70,000 acres of timber and bushland have been ravaged in the last week.

Ontario forestry officials said last night that while eight blazes still raged unchecked in the Cochrane-North Bay area, the situation in other sections was not as grave.

Reserves Judgment in Jap Property Cases

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson, of the Exchequer Court, today reserved judgment in three test cases to determine the right of the Custodian of Enemy Property to sell property of Japanese residents of Canada.

Argument in the case lasted two days with J. A. MacLennan, of Vancouver, solicitor for the four Japanese concerned, all of whom own residential property in Vancouver, holding that the custodian should be prohibited from selling the property. Mr. MacLennan maintained the orders in council giving him authority were unconstitutional and that he was merely a trustee.

F. P. Varcoe, deputy minister of justice, represented the Government and opposed the application.

Raids Continue on Europe Overnight

Follow Heavy Daylight Blows at Aircraft Plants and Airfields From Britain and Italy

LONDON, May 30 (CP).—Intensifying the Allied Air Command's campaign to destroy the German air force or drastically weaken it before Allied invasion troops land in Europe, nearly 2,000 American heavy bombers from British and Italian bases for the second successive day blasted aircraft plants and airfields in Germany, Belgium and France and Yugoslav targets.

The Britain-based heavies were escorted by approximately 1,200 long-range fighters and those from Italy had an escort 1,000 strong. From Britain the big bombers hammered three aircraft plants and six enemy airdromes in Germany, three rail yards in Belgium and France and military installations in the Pas de Calais.

From Italy they attacked Linz and four Messerschmitt factories in the Wiener Neustadt area of Austria, and railroad yards at Zagreb in Yugoslavia. The toll of Allied and enemy planes in the strikes from Italy was not immediately announced.

The daylight raiders from Britain shot down 66 Nazi planes, said a United States communique. American losses were 11 heavy bombers and 9 fighters.

R.C.A.F. Spitfires flew supporting sweeps while the Britain-based heavies and their fighter escort smashed into Germany. The Canadian fighters "brushed aside" enemy aircraft sent up to intercept them.

Suggesting the assaults were continuing in darkness, the German radio reported later "Enemy planes

More Voters Than Expected Turn Out For Eire Election

DUBLIN, May 30 (CP).—Voting in Eire's general election today—an election in which domestic matters form the only issue—was about normal with between 65 and 75 per cent of those eligible going to the polls.

Pre-election forecasts were that Administration of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera would be returned to office with a slight over-all majority.

The turnout of voters was larger than expected.

Counting of ballots begins tomorrow but the results are not expected to be known before Friday or Saturday, because of the proportional representation system used.

Front Beef Cuts Down

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—The Prices Board announced tonight that housewives will be able to buy chuck roasts and other front quarter beef cuts about 4 cents a pound cheaper under new beef ceilings effective June 5.

The board said the retail cost of hind quarter cuts will be increased about 4 cents by an adjustment in price levels aimed at a better balance in meat consumption. The changes apply to all parts of Canada.

SALES INCREASED

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today the dollar volume of department store sales in Canada in April was 4 per cent higher than in the corresponding month of last year and recorded an increase of 1 per cent over March.

Allied Troops Repel Furious Nazi Counter-Attacks in Push On Rome; Say Ardea Taken

Enemy Offering Savage Resistance in Effort To Hold Out Until Army Can Be Withdrawn

NAPLES, May 30 (CP).—British and American Fifth Army troops ground yard-by-yard into the Nazis' final fortress wall south and southeast of Rome today, repelling furious and repeated counter-attacks as they made "satisfactory gains" through the Alban foothills within 16 miles of the Italian capital.

Near the eastern end of the offensive front, British troops of the Eighth Army seized the town of Arce on the Via Casilina, and British, Canadian and French formations were pushing towards the ancient town of Frosinone on the same highway 11 airline miles northwest of Arce.

A B.B.C. broadcast said Tuesday night that the Allies had captured Ardea, five miles southwest of Campoleone station and three miles from the Tyrrhenian Sea coast.

The Nazis were offering savage resistance in an effort to stem the immediate threat to Rome until the bulk of Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's shattered Tenth Army could be withdrawn northwest along the Via Casilina, and along two secondary highways from its disastrous stand on the Hitler line.

Reinforced by the bulk of the reorganized Hermann Goering Parachute Division and supported by intensified artillery fire, the Nazis continued to stave off an American drive on Valmontone, a key stronghold of the new last-ditch line 20 miles east and slightly south of Rome.

German counter-attacks also had temporarily checked Allied infantry on the rolling meadows south of Lanuvio and southeast of Velletri, two other strongpoints in the Alban Hills, the enemy's last natural defences southeast of Rome. Both towns were under heavy artillery fire. Nazi artillery also laid down a curtain against the advancing British and American forces, but in general the enemy was being outgunned by a high ratio.

Armored Allied spearheads consolidated gains west of the Anzio-Albano road and advanced toward the Western coastal anchor of the German line at Campo Iemini, 18 miles due south of Rome.

British forces in this sector are thrusting in strength across the Moletta River, first crossed by British tanks a week ago.

Allied gains in the last 24 hours in the sectors nearest to Rome were not spectacular but an Allied spokesman described them as "satisfactory."

Count 5,000 Japs Dead in Two Areas

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, May 31 (Wednesday) (AP).—More than 5,000 Japanese dead have been counted at two Netherlands New Guinea invasion sectors, Hollandia and Wakde-Toem, headquarters reported today.

The larger total, 3,782, was listed for the Hollandia area, invaded April 22. Another 1,247 enemy dead were listed for the Wakde-Toem sector, more than 100 miles northwest of Hollandia.

Allies Cut Vital Road

KANDY, Ceylon, May 30 (AP).—Allied forces in a surprise blow at Japanese defences in North Burma have severed the road connecting Kamaing and Mogaung, main enemy bases in the Upper Mogaung Valley, it was announced today.

Allied air forces supporting this thrust rained bombs and bullets on roads and the rail line leading through the Irrawaddy Valley, up which the Japanese have been sending reinforcements to protect their positions, which are imperilled from Kamaing to Myitkyina, some 40 miles to the east.

The by-passing of Kamaing left that strong point in peril, for its road to Mogaung, 20 miles south and east, was its main route of supply.

Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's troops made some progress in the raging battle for Myitkyina, advancing 600 yards in a drive from the

First Tank Battle On Pacific Front

AT ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, May 31 (Wednesday) (AP).—American and Japanese armored units clashed Monday in the first tank battle of the Southwest Pacific war, fought on Biak in the Schouten Islands, with the Americans emerging victorious from the seesaw struggle but still blocked from their prime objective, the Mokmer airfield.

Headquarters announced today the encounter, in which American army tanks destroyed eight Japanese medium tanks.

Meanwhile, Allied destroyers and artillery pounded enemy positions near Mokmer, and Allied fighters and anti-aircraft gunners shot down six out of nine attacking Nipponese planes.

Back-to-Work Move Gaining

PORTLAND, Ore., May 30 (CP).—A back-to-work movement gathered strength through the A.F.L. ranks in the United States Northwest lumber industry today, but future action of C.I.O. members remained in doubt.

Throughout the Northwest, where nearly 40,000 men have walked out of sawmills, off log booms and away from lumber camps in 12 days of spreading shutdowns, locals began acceding to the plea of the A.F.L. lumber and workers' Northwestern Council to "return to work at once."

Meanwhile, Worth Lowry, president of the C.I.O. International Woodworkers of America which, Sunday, refused to condemn the walkouts, said another statement would be issued probably tomorrow. The C.I.O.'s position stemmed from a different interpretation of a United States War Labor Board announcement, which the A.F.L. understood as promising reconsideration of wage demands upon resumption of work. Lowery said a W.L.B. labor member informed him the board promised only to decide whether the demands—a boost from a minimum of 90 cents, to $1.02½ an hour for the C.I.O. and to $1.05 for the A.F.L.—should be reconsidered.

Ilsley to Give Statement on Bank Reserves

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—Finance Minister Ilsley said today before the Commons Banking Committee that he expected to make a statement on the inner reserves of the chartered banks tomorrow or Thursday.

G. G. McGeer (Liberal, Vancouver-Burrard) and Arthur Slaght (Liberal, Parry Sound) have been pressing for figures showing the amounts banks have placed in inner reserves to meet possible losses. The inner reserves have not been made public, and S. M. Wedd, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, said in evidence last week that this had not been the practice in the past and he did not think he could answer the direct question as to the amount involved.

C. S. Tompkins, inspector general of banks, said in reply to Mr. McGeer today that Mr. Ilsley, Dr. W. C. Clark, deputy finance minister, Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, and himself were aware of the amount of the inner reserves.

Mr. Ilsley has given no indication whether he will actually reveal the amount in his statement.

Curtin Says Events Will Be Criterion

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—Lined with travel weariness, Prime Minister Curtin, of Australia, stepped off a train here tonight and in a brief talk with newsmen declared, "Events to come will be the best criterion of the accomplishments" of the recent London conference of Prime Ministers.

The Australian Prime Minister described the conference in London "as the most successful gathering of the kind ever held."

While the fierce light of flash bulbs blared against his white hair and glasses, Mr. Curtin tried to look through the crowd of officials gathered at the train side to welcome him.

At last he saw what he was looking for—Prime Minister Mackenzie King led Mrs. Curtin forward by the arm and she climbed up the steps of the private car and, putting her arms around her husband, gave him a long kiss.

Mrs. Curtin, who had arrived in Ottawa from Washington earlier in the day, had not seen her husband for five weeks.

Mrs. Curtin had his arm and they were followed by Mr. King, Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, Australian chief of staff, and the official party. There was a round of hand-clapping as they reached the platform where members of the Cabinet, leaders of the Senate, Opposition party leaders, chiefs of the navy, army and air force staffs and other officials were on hand.

After an official round of hand-

Plan for Security Against War In Future Ready for Meetings

Hull Invites Three Powers to Gathering

WASHINGTON, May 30 (CP).—President Roosevelt said today that the aim of the United States for postwar peace machinery is an organization to work with the rest of the world without taking away the independence or integrity of the United States in any shape, manner or form.

A complete draft plan for postwar security against future conflicts, with definite objectives and proposed methods of attaining them, has been prepared for submission to Britain, Russia and China, the President told a press conference.

Mr. Roosevelt brought up the subject after State Secretary Cordell Hull invited Britain, Russia and China to send representatives here—possibly their Foreign Ministers—for the first major discussions in 25 years on the orgnization of an international agency to maintain peace.

The President was reminded by a reporter that in 1919 he had spoken favorably of President Wilson's League of Nations proposal and was asked if he still felt the same away about it.

Mr. Roosevelt said times have changed; the United States was proceeding on the 1944 pattern instead of the 1919. But it was well known there was a desire among peace-loving countries for a unity of action that would make future wars impossible.

Canadian Journalists Meet Lieut.-Gen. Crerar Overseas

LIEUT.-GEN. H. D. G. Crerar, General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Canadian Army, met Canadian newspapermen who accompanied Prime Minister King on his recent trip to London. Left to right are: Frank Flaherty, Canadian Press; Donald Cromie, publisher Vancouver Sun; Percy Philip, New York Times correspondent; John L'Action Catholique; H. T. Matson, Marshall, Windsor Star; Grant Dexter, Winnipeg Free Press; General Crerar; Blair Fraser, Ottawa editor of Maclean's Magazine. Miss Margaret Aitken, Toronto Evening Telegram; Oakley Dalgleish, Toronto Globe and Mail; Fernand Lacroix, Le Canada; Lorenzo Pare, of Montreal Standard and E. W. Harrold, Southam Press. The newspapermen will be allowed to depart under an emergency clause learned at London yesterday. This clause permits travel for "business of urgent national importance which cannot be postponed."

It was understood that Prime Minister Mackenzie King personally asked the British Government after the conference, which ended May 16, that the newspapermen be given every consideration. Their departure was arranged shortly afterwards.

Wismer Says U.S. Detectives To Be Charged in Wilby Case

Haldane Says No Direct Action Yet

VANCOUVER, May 30.—The Vancouver Province said in a newspage story today that warrants charging Fred Haines and George Salaka, New York detectives, with "kidnapping and assault" would be sworn out at Victoria. The newspaper quoted Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., as the source of its information.

The charges would be laid by W. H. M. Haldane, co-representative with Mr. Wismer for Ralph M. Wilby, alias Alexander Douglas Hume, who faces larceny charges involving $275,984 in New York. Mr. Wismer and Mr. Haldane have represented Wilby in his fight against extradition from Canada to face charges in New York.

Early this month the New York police officers took Wilby from a Victoria courtroom to Saanich, Duncan and Nanaimo before Provincial Police found them. The Vancouver Province said Mr. Wismer alleges the detectives held Wilby manacled to a bed in Nanaimo prior to their having received proper judicial warrants authorizing his extradition to the United States.

Court of Appeal here will rule tomorrow on Wilby's appeal from a judgment of Chief Justice Wendall Farris refusing to interfere with his extradition.

No direct action has been taken so far toward charging Detective

Nazis Tell of Plan to Use Fire To Combat Invasion by Allies

LONDON, May 30 (AP).—German propagandists poured out stories today of plans to combat invasion by flood and fire, of assigning flying repair squadrons to keep bombed communications open, and of salvaging trains from the scrap heap to keep supply lines running.

The scheme of scorching the earth ahead of Allied armies—to include "setting fire to vegetation" in "extreme emergencies"—coincided with a fire-fighting talk given the European underground in the fifth of a series of broadcasts by Supreme Allied Headquarters.

A spokesman for General Dwight D. Eisenhower told the underground to keep its fire-fighting units ready because the danger of fire in the battle zones would be great, not only from Allied bombs and artillery but "from German incendiarism."

He also reminded them to be ready with first aid since "the war may well pass quickly and leave its casualties behind."

The German-controlled Vichy radio, recording struggles of the Germans with the restless underground, said 55 French anti-Nazi "terrorists" had been arrested recently, and 17 were killed in slashes which killed two Hitler agents.

Algiers radio said five German infantry divisions and a motorized division had been sent to reinforce German troops in Bulgaria where Nazi concentrations now "resemble real occupation."

Neutral pre-invasion reports said today the German High Command had spotted thousands of small military units over France to cope with the expected onslaught of Allied airborne troops on "D" day.

These units, it was said, have been stationed well behind the heavily-fortified front wall, and each assigned a specific small area to cover.

This report fell somewhat in line with comment by Ritter Von Schramm, military correspondent of The Berliner Borsen-Zeitung, who wrote that the bulk of German armored formations in the West are held in readiness well behind the front fortifications, not so much to counter-attack landing attempts from the sea as to oppose air-borne troops and parachutists.

Britons looked for the fall of Rome possibly within a week and praised Gen. Sir Harold Alexander and his armies for their successes in Italy.

Commons Speaker Hits at W.P.T.B.

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre), said today in the Commons the Prices Board had failed to win the confidence of the people.

There had been a "silly" regulation against two-pant suits and against cuffs on trousers. These regulations had been removed after the National Liberal Federation meeting in Ottawa some months ago.

There never was an admission of error on the part of the board.

"Yet an order can be changed when a little Liberal pressure is put on," said Mr. Knowles.

A Winnipeg advertisement showed four ladies' handbags at prices ranging from $47 to $100 although luxury goods supposedly were not being produced. They were imported, but the people were being allowed to purchase them.

Douglas Abbott, Parliamentary Assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley, said that such goods bore a heavy tax.

Mr. Knowles said several correspondents in Winnipeg had written him "quite incensed" over the advertisement which appeared when the Victory Loan was being launched.

Milk Coupons Still Needed

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—Priority sales of evaporated milk by coupon must continue in restricted areas—those districts in which supplies of fresh milk are adequate to meet all necessary needs—the Prices Board said tonight in announcing the discontinuance of the use of coupons in other than restricted areas after June 1.

The board said most areas of Ontario and Quebec, except the northern portions, are classified as restricted areas, together with the larger towns and cities of the four Western provinces.

At the beginning of May the board announced a new type of evaporated milk coupon to replace the "G" coupon. On and after June 1 all "G" coupons in the hands of consumers will be invalid.

Before further purchases can be made in restricted areas a consumer possessing an evaporated milk card with "G" coupons attached must exchange it at his local ration board office for a card of the new evaporated milk coupons.

The priority users entitled to coupons in restricted areas are infants and invalids. Object of the order, the board said, is to ensure that infants and invalids in restricted areas obtain necessary supplies, and that other areas where fresh milk is scarce or unavailable have adequate stocks of tinned milk to meet requirements.

Saanich to Vote On School Work

A by-law to raise $102,500 for the building and renovating of urgently needed schools in Saanich, approved by Saanich Council at a meeting held last night, will be put before the ratepayers on June 17. The council appointed W. A. Greene, returning officer, and specified polling stations and deputies.

Total estimate for the eight-room elementary school with auditorium on Cedar Avenue, workshop at Mount View, and alterations and additions to other buildings, was set at $126,480, but a Provincial grant of $26,712 has reduced the net estimate of borrowings.

The proposed by-law fixes interest at 3 per cent payable half yearly on the $100 debentures. Mr. Greene pointed out that this was an extremely low rate, seldom accorded to municipalities.

If the by-law receives the assent of Saanich property owners, the corporation will be empowered to issue debentures on the borrowings of $102,500, repayable over a period of 15 years.

Trustee M. P. Paine discussed the proposed school-building project with the council. He and other members of the school board arranged to discuss details of the Cedar Avenue site with Councillor T. Alexander and members of the council lands committee.

T. T. Hill was appointed poundkeeper. Tenders for printing 18,000 tax bills were read and the contract awarded to Margison Bros. Councillor R. Noble remarked that the price quoted, $140, was extremely low, and he would inquire if the firm hired union labor. Councillor J. L. Hobbs was reappointed as Saanich representative on the board of directors of Royal Jubilee Hospital.

REEVE NOT IN FAVOR OF PUBLIC ARENA

Commenting on the establishment of an ice arena and auditorium in the city of Victoria, Reeve E. C. Warren said: "This would be a definite asset to the city of Victoria, but not to us. I am afraid it would be voted down in Saanich if we were to suggest taking a share in the expense of a public-owned arena." He suggested that he had a definite plan to put before the council later and thanked Councillors Noble and W. C. Kersey for their report on the matter.

"We are facing unprecedented times and should not obligate ourselves, because we do not know what demands will be made on the public purse. If we wait for a public-owned arena, we will never get one," Councillor George Austin stated.

The outer wards, or rural area of Saanich, bought $279,750 in Victory Bonds during the last drive, according to a letter received from G. S. Yardley, organizer of the National War Finance Committee. He congratulated the district on its support. The whole of Saanich district had bought close to $1,000,000 in bonds, against a quota of $700,000, he said.

Sale of a lot on Cedar Avenue near Richmond Road was blocked by the council because of the engineer's report that cost of opening a rocky road there would cost more than $500. The council approved a motion that the prospective buyer be offered all five lots which belong to the corporation in this area. It would then be possible to construct the road.

The council accepted an invitation given by G. Hamilton Harman, manager of the Bank of Montreal, to attend Rotary luncheon at the Empress Hotel as his guests on June 8.

Refusal of Wartime Prices and Trade Board to grant additional sugar for canning rhubarb was criticized by the council. Councillor J. Oliver stated that a tremendous amount of rhubarb was going to waste.

Two applications for building were granted, one for a combined dwelling and store, which will only be used as a home for the time being.

Would Reduce Beverage Prices in Restaurants

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—Robert Fair (S.C., Battle River), urged tonight in the Commons that the Prices Board reduce the price of tea, coffee and milk in restaurants.

Mr. Fair said restaurants were allowed last year to increase the price of the three beverages from 5 to 10 cents. The increase affected the low salaried worker.

The increase, if necessary, should have been placed on foods, particularly the better foods which would be ordered by the well-to-do.

Plane Causes Alert

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30 (AP).—The Western Defence Command issued the following statement tonight on the brief silencing of radio stations in the Los Angeles area:

"The Los Angeles Fighter Wing ordered a radio silence in the Los Angeles area at 7:05 p.m. today when unidentified aircraft were reported approaching from off shore. The radio silence was ended at 7:28 p.m. when the aircraft were identified as friendly."

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today preliminary figures indicate that Canada's chemical industries reached an all-time high in 1943 with production valued at $653,000,000, an increase of 30 per cent over 1042 and more than four times greater than the best prewar total.

Chinese Bishop on Good-Will Tour

MOST Rev. Paul Yu-pin, Vicar Apostolic of the Roman Catholic See of Nanking, and one of China's ranking Christian nationals, is pictured above with Bishop John C. Cody on his first visit to Victoria in five years. He was entertained at a banquet given by the Sisters of St. Ann at St. Joseph's Hospital on Monday evening and a special guard of honor attended him. He was met by dignitaries of the church and the Chinese colony. In Canada on an important good will tour and to study war industries and postwar reconstruction, he previously visited the United States where he conferred with President Roosevelt and members of the Cabinet.

He pleaded for more flyers, more planes and gasoline. The war situation was most critical, he stated emphatically, and air transportation alone would not help. The new India-China road must be opened within six months, and materials must be sent to China, otherwise the war would be seriously prolonged.

Over six feet tall and powerfully built, the bishop has a ready smile and a philosophic calm that inspires confidence in him and his nation's cause.

Oak Bay Firemen Get Wage Boost

Oak Bay firemen have been awarded a general wage increase of 6 per cent, retroactive to January 1. The Oak Bay Council last night received a report from Barrie Goult, Department of Labor official, who handled negotiations between the council and the firemen, giving details of the wage increase.

An inquiry from Oak Bay Municipal Employees' Association, asking what action had been taken on a three-man committee's report on a salary schedule for the inside staff, was referred to the finance committee. It was stated that a decision would be reached this week.

R. M. Smith, president of the employees' association and their representative on the three-man committee, said last night that the report had been completed on April 26.

Various parties were given permission to consolidate two pieces of land on Anscomb Place, to build an $8,600 home in the Uplands, and to subdivide two lots in the Uplands.

Wild West Shows, Ltd., was given permission to hold a rodeo at the exhibition grounds, starting June 28.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., forwarded a letter from Hon. J. L. Ilsley, giving details of a Dominion housing project in Montreal.

PLAN TO USE WILLOWS BUILDINGS COLLAPSES

Information from the council's solicitor on the suggested use of army buildings at the Willows for housing families, was filed, the clerk stating that the buildings were now apparently not to be used for this purpose.

A communication from the Naval Department was filed, stating that Esquimalt was to be maintained as a naval base, but that Pacific Coast naval headquarters would remain at Vancouver.

Two by-laws were introduced, providing for the sale of tax-sale lots. Only 17 such lots were sold last year, but between 30 and 40 have been sold already this year. An offer of $275 from W. D. Anderson for a lot on Dunlevy Street was referred to the lands committee.

A request by Saanich Council that Oak Bay Fire Department agree to stand by if the Saanich department should be called outside Saanich was tabled for committee discussion.

Permission was granted Victoria branch of the Canadian Aid-to-Russia Fund to hold a tag day on June 24. Councillor P. A. Moir was reappointed the council's representative to Royal Jubilee Hospital's board.

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—The handling of rationing coupons by the chartered banks of Canada is costing the Federal Government between $55,000 and $65,000 a month, Douglas Abbott, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley, said today in the Commons.

Answering Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross (Progressive Conservative, Souris), Mr. Abbott said the banks handled the ration coupons on a cost basis.

Consumers' Council Endorses "Reasonable" Price on Berries

VANCOUVER, May 30 (CP).—A reasonable ceiling price for strawberries to conform with costs of production was endorsed by the Consumers' Council of British Columbia at a meeting here tonight.

A report on investigation by the executive into production and marketing costs following protests of British Columbia growers against 1944 wholesale and consumer ceiling prices for strawberries was read to the meeting.

Producers will be contacted by the council to ascertain what they would consider an adequate return.

Fears were expressed that the Government, in setting the 1944 ceiling prices might be trying to force growers to sell to the canneries.

Plight of Kootenay growers, whose product would not be ready for market until the second and reduced ceiling price will be in effect, was also given consideration by the delegates.

LITTLE SOLD AT 33 CENTS

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—George Cruickshank (Liberal, Fraser Valley) said today in the Commons that only 10 per cent of last year's strawberry crop in British Columbia was sold at an average rate of 33 cents a quart.

Mr. Cruickshank said Finance Minister Ilsley gave the impression in the Commons yesterday that the province's whole crop was sold at the 33-cent rate. The same impression had been conveyed today by Douglas Abbott, parliamentary assistant to Mr. Ilsley.

Speaking during examination of Finance Department estimates, Mr. Cruickshank said during debate yesterday on the price ceiling on strawberries no British Columbia member asked that the ceiling be lifted.

The members had asked that the ceiling be based on the cost of production. Salaries were higher in British Columbia than in Ontario and Quebec and yet the ceiling on strawberries in the two Eastern provinces was higher than at any time.

In British Columbia the price was reduced from 33 cents to 27 cents a quart.

Mr. Abbott said there was no ceiling on berries last year and the growers "went to town" with their prices. The price had to be lowered in British Columbia because the "price was so out of line" with that in other parts of Canada.

The ceiling had been set after due consultation and was more than twice as high as the price paid for the berries in 1942.

are on the way to Western Germany," and the Budapest as well as other Balkan radio stations left the air.

The Folkestone region vibrated for 15 minutes to explosions after darkness along the Channel Coast and anti-aircraft fire was visible between Cap Gris Nez and Boulogne.

Meanwhile lighter bombers continued through daylight hours the tactical pounding of targets in Northern France and Belgium.

More than 200 mediums early in the day attacked three bridges across the River Seine. Rocket-firing R.A.F. Typhoons again struck at radio installations and rail targets.

The heavyweights from Mediterranean bases hit the Neudorff aircraft factory three miles southeast of Wiener Neustadt and a nest of three plants converted to the manufacture of Messerschmitt parts: the Pottendorf Spinning Mills, nine miles northwest of Wiener Neustadt; the Ebreichsdorf Carpet Factory, 11 miles to the northeast, and the Neunkirchen Spinning Mill, 10 miles to the southwest.

Part of the British-based heavy bomber force struck a JU-88 bomber assembly factory at Dessau, an FW-190 fighter assembly plant at Oschersleben, a JU-88 bomber component plant and airdromes at Halberstadt, and other parts attacked airdromes at Handorf, Diepholz, Rotenburg, Oldenburg and Bad-Zwischenahn, the last three near Hamburg.

Still others hammered railroad yards at Brussels in Belgium, and Reims and Troyes in France, and Nazi fortifications about the Pas de Calais coast of France.

Late in the day American fighter-bombers attacked bridges and other German military installations near Paris and a target at Antwerp, losing one aircraft.

LONDON (CP).—Representatives of Britain's 250,000 model aircraft enthusiasts recently launched the Association of British Aero Modelers. The association will promote competitions, exhibitions, libraries and talks to encourage the development of airmindedness.

POST-WAR RECONSTRUCTION

INTEGRITY, experience and business capacity must be given full opportunity to contribute to post-war reconstruction. These qualities are fully as important to the bank in considering applications for loans as are the material resources of borrowers. Indeed, when possessed in high degree, these personal factors often weigh more with the bank than other considerations.

It will be the policy of The Royal Bank of Canada to extend liberal financial assistance to promising business undertakings, whether large or small, new or old, when under reliable management.

What is PRIVATE ENTERPRISE?
It is the natural desire to make your own way, as far as your ability will take you; an instinct that has brought to this continent the highest standard of life enjoyed by any people on earth. It is the spirit of democracy on the march . . .

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
A.P. War Analyst

Bitter German resistance is slowing the Allied advance on Rome along the 25-mile Valmontone-Tiber Delta front in the west, but to the east General Sir Harold Alexander's "piston" technique gained ground to warrant a prediction by Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark that the Allies will soon enter the Eternal City.

Eighth Army seizure of Arce permitted Gen. Alexander to open a second "piston-head" drive up the Liri Valley toward Avezzano, central communication hinge of the tottering Nazi trans-peninsular front. His right flank forces were reported well into the Upper Liri Valley toward Sora along the Arce-Avezzano road.

Capture of Isola, cutting the Isola-Frosinone lateral connection, would split apart German armies in the Liri and Sacco Valleys.

Enemy forces guarding the Sora entrance to the Upper Liri are only 15 airline miles from those still clinging to Frosinone, key to the Lower Sacco Valley, but they are 80 or more miles apart by any adequate road connection. And in the Sacco Valley the fate of Frosinone seems sealed. British and Canadian elements astride the Sacco River and French-American units of the Fifth Army are closing in on the ancient town.

The Sacco Valley between Valmontone in the northwest and the menaced Frosinone road hub in the southeast could become a Nazi death trap within hours.

Several German divisions are still deployed along the Lepini hills between the Sacco Valley and the Pontine coastal plains, now completely in Allied hands from the southern edge of the Tiber Delta. There apparently are only three possible lateral escape routes into the Sacco Valley from the Lepini ridge.

One is the Priverno-Valmontone road that joins the Via Casilina some five miles east of Valmontone. The second is the Priverno-Frosinone road, already cut by the fall of Prossedi. The third is the Priverno connection with the Via Casilina.

Plan Conference

An international conference against vivisection will be held next October, Victoria Branch of the Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society was advised at a recent meeting at which H. Hollins presided.

Literature was received from Chicago for distribution. Miss L. Lost, London, England, wrote in regard to the status of members of the armed forces who objected to vaccination and inoculation. Members of the society were advised some time ago that such operations were not compulsory.

In discussing the case of an aged Vancouver woman accused of being a typhoid carrier, it was pointed out that advanced medical men considered such a theoretical absurdity.

A letter of appreciation for information was received from Dr. Fielding Ould, director of the National Anti-Vivisection Society, London, England.

Strong objection was registered by members of the society against any proposal to pasteurize the milk supply of the city.

Victoria Veteran Back From Italy

STILL weak from wounds, Sgt. Francis Mitchell Kyle, 3440 Calumet Avenue, came home this week after four years of service with the famed Canadian regiment, the Princess Pats. Aided by crutches, he hobbled off the train at Vancouver Sunday night into the joyous embraces of his mother and sister, seen above.

Sgt. Kyle joined the Pats four years before the outbreak of war and went overseas shortly after. He was in the severe fighting at Ortona, Italy, where he received several wounds, the worst being a compound fracture of the right leg. On completion of his 30 days' leave here, he will report to Shaughnessy Military Hospital.

Saanich Men Graduate as Air-Gunners

SGT. Basil J. Harford (left) and Sgt. Richard J. Spooner, Saanich airmen who were recently graduated at Edmonton as air bombers, both are the sons of soldiers. Sgt. Harford is the son of Cpl. Basil Harford, Veterans' Guard of Canada, stationed in Alberta, and Mrs. Harford, Sayward Road, Royal Oak. Sgt. Spooner's father is a warrant officer in the R.C.A.S.C., and his brother, F.O. R. E. Spooner, is overseas in the R.C.A.F. He comes from Elk Lake district.

Airman Missing

F.O. W. H. MATTHEWS

Victoria-educated airman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Matthews, Hedley, B.C., who is missing after operations over Germany on May 23, according to word received here by his sisters, Mrs. Alex Provan and Miss Edri Matthews. Aged 27, he was a teacher at Trail before enlisting two years ago. He was educated at George Jay School, Victoria High School, Victoria College and Victoria Normal School.

Furlough at Home

REGINALD FITT-BROOKE, 22

Who is on furlough at home with his mother, Mrs. Fitt-Brooke, Telegraph Bay Road, Cadboro Bay. Reginald was formerly an officer in the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, having served on the former Empress of Asia since joining her as a messenger in the purser's office. He was born at Medicine Hat, Alta., but received his education at Penticton. He was on board the Empress of Asia when that ship, troop laden, was blasted by waves of Japanese bombers. Young Fitt-Brooke was later picked up and taken to Singapore. From Singapore he helped man a small coastal vessel to Batavia. From there the Empress crew was taken to Australia and subsequently back to Canada. He is at present with the British Merchant Navy. His father, Major J. Fitt-Brooke, is pictured with him above.

Reported Missing

SGT. A.-G. NORMAN G. WHARF

Who was reported missing in air operations on May 23. Born and educated here, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wharf, 332 Obed Avenue. Sgt. Wharf was employed by the Department of Lands and was well known in city athletics. He joined the 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish in September, 1939, later transferring to the R.C.A.F., and went overseas a year ago as an air gunner.

Tomorrow the World" To Be Here Next Week

The title of the play, "Tomorrow the World," which comes to the Royal Theatre for two nights, Friday and Saturday, June 9 and 10, often give the impression that it is based on the war. However, this is not the case, the play deals with an American family in the mid-west. Into this home comes a 12-year-old German boy, son of a great German liberal who has been martyred for his anti-Hitler opinions. It turns out the boy has been raised in the Nazi tradition and he proceeds to disrupt the household general. The contrast between the Nazi brat and the wise-cracking American girl, also 12 years old, provides a great deal of comedy.

The cast that will be seen here is the same that played the Selwyn Theatre, in Chicago, for six months, and will be the attraction at the Geary Theatre, San Francisco, for five weeks, beginning June 25. The play is also in its second year at the Barrymore Theatre, in New York.

Hitchcock's "Lifeboat" Will Open Next Friday

Alfred Hitchcock's long-awaited production of "Lifeboat," by John Steinbeck, is scheduled to open on Friday at the Dominion Theatre.

The 20th Century-Fox saga of men and women adrift in mid-Atlantic, with no law but the wild sea, stars Tallulah Bankhead with William Bendix, Walter Slezak, Mary Anderson, John Hodiak, Henry Hull, Heather Angel, Hume Cronyn and Canada Lee in featured roles.

The suspenseful and moving dramatic hit was directed by Alfred Hitchcock and produced by Kenneth Macgowan. Jo Swerling wrote the screen play.

Survivors Back

One survivor of the Athabaskan sinking, C.P.O. H. B. Neaves, arrived yesterday to spend leave in Victoria and three others are on their way. One of the others, Ldg.-Tel. H. J. Bennetts, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bennetts, 825 Viewfield Road, is expected home today.

P.O. R. G. Backus, 414 Powell Street, was delayed by having to see a dentist in Halifax. P.O. George W. Casswell, 3417 Seymour Avenue, is expected home soon.

C.P.O. Neaves, 957 Meares Street, said yesterday that he believed many Athabaskan crewmen listed as missing are safe as prisoners of war. He remembers seeing Lieut.-Cmdr. J. H. Stubbs, Victoria commander of the ship, and other Victorians.

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., May 30 (CP).—H. W. Ellis, of the Dominion Experimental Farm staff here, has accepted a position as manager of the poultry farm at the University of British Columbia.

One Hundred Years

Some world movements from their birth have never been limited. Of such is the Salvation Army, the Boy Scouts and the Girl Guides, and the Y.M.C.A. — which next month will celebrate its centenary. The Young Men's Christian Association began in a modest way. A London clerk formed a small club, over the place where he worked, for the benefit of young men. The Christian ideal was incorporated early in the meetings, and it is towards the goal of Christian brotherhood that the association has worked now for one hundred years.

Even with the world at war, it is an impressive result that has been achieved. Today there are 2,000,000 members in some 68 countries of the world. No less than 10,380 individual associations have been formed, guided by professional and business men as directors, and served by no less than 52,000 voluntary workers. But that is only the register. The real result has come in the lives of tens of thousands of young men whom the Young Men's Christian Association has helped in their growing, formative years.

Athletics, education, social contacts, hobbies, discussion groups — many and varied have been the individual attainments of the various associations. Here in Victoria the start was made in 1859, before this city was incorporated, but that attempt lapsed. In 1875 it was revived, and from that day to this—sixty-nine years—the Y.M.C.A. has been a going concern in Victoria. Thousands of young men who were born and educated here look upon it as their second school-mother, the place where first they tested their own wings in an adolescent world.

One likes to think of the hundreds of men, and not a few women, whose kindly personal efforts contributed to the success of the Young Men's Christian Association here since 1875. Their's is the happiness of a result that has been abundantly worth while. May the next 100 years see the Y.M.C.A. continue to expand, and its fine ideal come more within the reach of man!

Special mention should be made, too, of the strong place that the Y.M.C.A. holds in this nation's war effort. Literally tens of thousands of men in the three armed services have passed through the Victoria Y.M.C.A. since the war started. To each was given a friendly welcome, and more human assistance than is to be found readily at most levels in the world. That has meant a good deal to these men, and to Canada. For what the man in uniform needs most is a touch of human companionship when he is hundreds of miles away from his home. There has been no better morale-builder in this country. In its heart, may the Young Men's Christian Association keep ever young!

Mr. W. J. Taylor, K.C.

The passing of Mr. W. J. Taylor, K.C., yesterday, at the age of 85, removes one of the most colorful figures in the legal history of British Columbia. Although retired for some years, he appeared six times before the Privy Council at London in the old days, and represented the City of Victoria there in the damage claims arising out of the Point Ellice Bridge disaster of 1896. He had a host of friends in the legal world, men who will remember his courtly manner and acute pleadings before the highest courts of the land. Associated once with the late Mr. Justice Eberts, Mr. Taylor was one of the senior practising barristers in Canada at the time of his retirement. His hobby was breeding race horses, and, always, a lifelong interest in the humanities. The sincere sympathy of the community will go out to the bereaved.

Watch the Rat Holes

Sooner or later the crack-up in Europe must come. When that happens there will be an immediate exodus of the leading and minor culprits of the brutal Nazi regime, seeking funk holes in neutral and other lands. The United Nations, if they have not already done so, should act now to have a clear and unquestioned understanding that no spot on earth will harbor war criminals, if they are demanded fairly and justly for trial. If some such understanding is not reached there could occur an immediate impasse, wherein the Allies could demand say a Himmler, and that demand might be refused by some neutral state.

What would we do then, make war upon that nation? It is unlikely that we would, and yet should a Himmler escape as easily as that? The question answers itself. The blood of all Europe cries aloud for the punishment of men who, beyond all the hazards of war, were calculatingly savage and brutal. No one of them can be allowed at liberty, if there is any justice under heaven. Yet the rat holes are there, and to those holes the rats will run unless we act to stop them.

That can be done. The United Nations could say now that they will not recognize any right of sanctuary for a war criminal; that all such persons must be brought to fair trial, but trial, too, without any blinkers. It is idle to hang a murderer for the sake of one human life, and at the same time to let wholesale, besotted murderers go scot free. Nor will the people of the free world stand for that. Even if the Western nations grow soft and easy-going on the point, Poland, Greece, Yugoslavia, Holland, Norway, Belgium and France will not. And they have kept the written record, wholesale, wanton murders written in blood. We should plug the rat holes now while there is still time, and do it beyond all question of doubt.

Good Progress Made

Any major battle takes time to develop. Enough has come out of Italy since the Allied push started there to justify the belief that the Fifth and Eighth Armies, together with Canadian, French and other troops in the fight, have cracked the German networks of defence below Rome. The cutting of the Via Casilina, from the beachhead, means that the enemy stands imperilled everywhere south and east of that point. In other words, his anchors have been weighed and a state of fluid warfare must follow for the immediate future.

What will come next is of some importance to the world. The Germans may, or may not, have the choice of fighting through Rome. Should they do so, it will be a dogged, bitter battle. If they withdraw to the north, Rome may be saved the desolation that has struck the Italian countryside south of that point, with its blackened towns and razed villages. Certainly on our side there will be no disposition to turn Rome into a battlefield unnecessarily. If the Germans withdraw, the matter will be settled. If they do not, then the choice and the responsibility will have been theirs.

It is not impossible, however, that the enemy has already lost much choice in the matter. Around the perimeter of Europe he is manning his invasion stations. Literally, he dare not move more than a scattered few regiments in any direction, without creating gaps in his defence system. Should present progress being made by the Allies in Italy be maintained, and there seems a reasonable likelihood of that, then Rome may yet become a last-ditch stand by the remnants of the twenty-five or so German divisions in Italy, together with whatever reinforcements the German High Command may be able to send south from France.

The next few days should show what the real position will be. Either way, we must follow the enemy wherever he is. The First Canadian Corps has done well in the battle, and throughout Canada there will be warm gratification and pride in that fact.

Seen in Passing

Fairies think so much of themselves that they will not be seen by individuals who do not believe in them. Let them visit the fairy rathes at midnight! Let them look under the apple-green leaves in a lily pond! Let them turn every bush and every deadfall in the forest—the fairies will not be there! But let a kind, simple heart go strolling one foot off the beaten track in life, and there are the fairies—one for every kind thought that was ever sent abroad in the world for the weal of mankind.

It is not too early, perhaps, to suggest to the public that when the invasion of Western Europe starts no useful purpose will be served by telephoning the newspapers or the radio stations in Canada. They will have their hands full as it is. The most sensible thing is to buy the newspapers and to listen to the radio, both of them geared to those official sources which will be covering the invasion, where it is.

No man knows the whole mind of a dog. If he did, he would find such powers of remembrance, of devotion and of loyalty as would completely astound him — for man himself has among the shortest memories of all.

Music

O music! Magic music! What mystic spell is thine,
To raise our souls to heaven and to lift to heights divine?
Mendelssohn and Handel—Beethoven's symphonies,
An opera by Wagner to inspire, uplift and please,
Cesar Franck, Tschaikowsky, Debussy and Ravel,
Schumann, Strauss and Scriabin, all cast their magic spell,
To thrill with exhaltation, or cast us in despair,
To play on our emotions and to drive away all care.
They seem to put us into touch with Shining Ones above,
To fill our hearts with tenderness, with kindliness and love,
As though a little foretaste unto each of us was given,
The wondrous melody and bliss to be enjoyed in heaven.
The violins impassioned notes, a bugle sweet and clear,
But the human voice is best of all, yes; having no compeer.
The thrilling cords of music are most eloquent we find
To kindle sweet emotions and to elevate the mind,
A language universal that appeals to every soul
By the power of its mystery to influence or control,
To stir our hearts with joy, with confidence and gladness,
To thrill with ecstacy or pain, with bitterness or sadness;
But Oh! the soul-destroying "jazz" preserve all from this!
That nerve distracting outrage with its jarring emphasis;
Through the privilege and blessings of that medium radio,
Varied types of music reach us everywhere we go,
But there is music in the sighing of the breeze,
Music in the rustling of the trees,
Music in the lapping waves that beat upon the shore,
In pattering baby footsteps that tap upon the floor,
Music in the raindrops upon the window pane,
Music in the birds' song, who trill in glad refrain,
In childrens' merry laughter, spontaneous and free,
There's music ever in the soul who lives in harmony.

With a bag of popcorn as the prize, two young fighters swung left and right in deadly earnest at the intersection of Douglas and View Streets. They did not hear the Salvation Army band playing at the corner; they were oblivious to pedestrians, and they had no fear of the police patrol wagon. Apparently they had forgotten the rules of the [illegible] although one of the pugilists wore spectacles, the customary words: "Take off your glasses or I'll——" were not heard. They used their fists and their feet; they were like two very angry sparrows. Neither was more than four years of age. A member of the Salvation Army tucked his hymnbook into a pocket and tried to separate the two. He might more easily have tried to tear apart a couple of bulldogs. It took him half a minute to get a firm grip on one of the pugilists, but the one with spectacles kept his legs firmly angled about his opponent's sturdy limbs, and it took both pulling and persuasion to untangle them. Finally the peacemaker succeeded. The boy with spectacles made a dive for the bag of popcorn, upon which an airman almost stepped. He measured the flyer's height, clenched his small fists in rage, but shuffled off with the bag. He was joined by his adversary, and they disappeared in the crowd on Douglas Street, apparently once again friends . . . The most important weather man in the world is Sir Nelson King Johnson, director of meteorology at the British Air Ministry. On his prediction may depend the date for the invasion of Europe . . . Farm lands and buildings acquired from Japanese in California were valued at $65,781,000. In 1941 the crops raised by them were worth $30,000,000.

Sergeant Fred Haines and Detective George Salaka, of New York, with "kidnapping and assault" in the Ralph M. Wilby case.

These charges, it was stated in a news dispatch yesterday from Vancouver, would be laid against the New York police officers.

W. H. M. Haldane, of Victoria, joint counsel for Wilby with Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., of Vancouver, stated last night:

"As far as I am aware no direct action has been taken, and certainly I personally have taken no direct action."

SECOND APPLICATION AGAIN POSTPONED

Date for resuming the second habeas corpus application of Ralph M. Wilby in his fight against extradition to New York may be set at Vancouver today. Decision as to proceeding has been delayed until judgment is given by the Court of Appeal on his appeal from dismissal of the first habeas corpus application.

The Appeal Court's judgment is expected today. Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane consented in chambers here yesterday to receive representations by counsel at 2 p.m. today in Vancouver.

C. L. Harrison, acting for the State of New York, urged that the hearing continue as soon as possible.

Wilby faces 17 theft charges involving $275,984 in New York.

Security Plan

Mr. Roosevelt added that the United States plan was still in the draft stage. The invitation to Russia, Britain and China did not necessarily mean that a conference would be held in Washington later.

CANADA EXPECTED TO TAKE PART

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP).—Canada is expected to take part in the Washington talks on creation of a world security organization when they reach a "more advanced stage," an External Affairs Department spokesman said here today.

He was commenting on State Secretary Hull's invitation today in Washington to Russia, Britain and China to begin informal talks on the general problem of postwar world security.

The talks were looked upon here as the "second instalment" of the Moscow meeting last Fall when it was provided that Russia, Britain, the United States and China would meet subsequently in Washington to discuss organization of a world security body.

It was expected here that the smaller nations would be invited to take part in the discussions when a more concrete stage has been reached.

CASTLE RISING, England (CP).—Because mothers evacuated from vulnerable districts on the coast to a hostel in this Norfolk town are said to be keeping late hours, the district council have applied to the Ministry of Health for authority to enforce a 11 p.m. curfew.

Letters to the Editor

No letter to the editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 200 words in length. Un-elicited correspondence cannot be returned.

THE UNIVERSE

Sir,—On the above title, and in reference to correspondents' letters and such expressions, "let us have faith in humanity" and "my trust is in the common people." Are not such cliches worn threadbare and out of mode even as "kultur," "superior races," "civilized world" and the dodo. The experience of man's misrule of some 6,000 years is that man, though not without attempting, has failed yet to produce an equitable and just government, the necessary foundation of any better system.

Some men still foster wishful thinking, hoping a man contrived better world. Thus we have Dr. Antidote, Dr. Beverage and Dr. Cocktail conjuring up medicines for the several hundred thousand guinea pigs.

Despite all this, it is written in the Scripture, "Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help," which statement has the sound backing of world history, so that someone summed the matter in the epigram, "man cannot succeed in elevating himself by tugging on his own boot straps," and more recently says Mr. G. Bernard Shaw: "Rebuilding the world is a job for which we are hardly qualified. If we were, this war would not have occurred."

Why not then pause and digest the lesson of history over so long a period? England found that though an island, isolation was not desirable. America faced the fact, though a self-contained unit and capable of supplying all its own needs, found that isolation was not desirable. Traveling further afield—the inhabitants of this sphere have yet to appreciate the fact that their earth is not an isolated entity, but is part of the universe, of many millions of light-years in extent, and we are informed is peopled by invisible spirit creatures and beings. The affairs of this planet are not independent, but are dependent from sources in the universe outside of this planet for our light and heat, day and night, seasons and years, etc.

Why not accept these facts and open one's mind to the sound teaching of the Scripture, viz., the final ending of this present evil world system, and the creation of a new world system, not by man's, but by spirit power and intervention; all the wicked having perished and the surviving salt of the earth being of every nation, kindred, tribe and tongue. So get out the balances, uncover the eyes of mind and weigh-up carefully the matter and consider it.

L. S. SCOTNEY GEORGE.

Premier Curtin

shaking, Mr. Curtin was asked to say a few words "for the press." Mr. King led him to a newsreel microphone and smilingly introduced him.

"Canada is proud to welcome you sir," said Prime Minister King.

THANKS MR. KING FOR INVITATION

Mr. Curtin spoke for three minutes. He said he wanted to thank Mr. King for the invitation the Prime Minister had extended to him during the London conference and he wanted to assure Canadians that their hospitality was well known in Australia through letters of hundreds of Australian boys who had undergone air training in this country.

He spoke of the success of the London conference: "I am quite sure there never has been a more successful gathering than the one Mr. King and I attended in London," he repeated. "I won't say much about the results of that conference tonight—I will say that events to come will be the best criterion of the accomplishments of the gathering."

Highlights of Mr. Curtin's busy round of engagements will be his speech Thursday before a joint session of the Senate and Commons.

Mr. Curtin arrived at Montreal earlier in the day after a flight from Britain.

Tomorrow Mr. Curtin begins the day with a call on the deputy Governor-General, Chief Justice Thibedeau Rinfret. The Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, is making a tour of Western Canada.

After this call Mr. Curtin will pay a visit to Mr. King in his office in the East Block where he is booked for a half-hour conference—possibly on Pacific affairs of mutual interest to both Dominions.

Mr. Curtin then will go to one of the Commons largest committee rooms where he will be interviewed by the press. His next date is a luncheon at Laurier House, official residence of Mr. King.

After lunch he will attend a meeting of the war committee of the Cabinet and again the subject to be discussed will probably include the Pacific with Canadian Defence Ministers possibly outlining Canada's plan of action in that theatre.

The speech to Members of Parliament will be delivered between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m., E.D.T. in the big wooden-paneled Commons chamber, it was announced in the Commons today by Defence Minister Ralston.

From Europe

For purposes of supply of retreat, the hostile forces between Valmontone and the crest of the Appenines are thus dependent upon two roads—from Arce to Avezzano and from Frosinone to Arsoli.

The first of these is the better. It is listed as a first-class road and can certainly take a double line of traffic, but it is very steep in places and winds considerably. The second is a one-way mountain road.

If Kesselring is in fact withdrawing to this Ardea-Velletri-Valmontone line, it will take him a long time to extricate the large force which still lies south and east of it.

There will have to be a very big wheel back which would involve divisions beyond the crest of the Appenines.

The obvious reply on the part of the Allies, if they believe this to be his strategy, would be to concentrate all possible strength towards the western side of their front and endeavor to break through on Highway 7 and Highway 6 while the wheel is in progress.

Pursuit into the mountains would then become a secondary matter which should absorb only limited forces.

The retreating enemy can probably keep us at arm's length there and the most that can be done is to prevent him from disengaging altogether.

A break-through on the two main roads would, on the other hand, upset the enemy's applecart.

There would even be a remote possibility of an Allied column reaching the Rome-Pescara road through Rome before the last of the Germans reached it at Avezzano.

With the enemy now pushed right away from Highway 7 between Terracina and Cisterna there should be little difficulty in reinforcing the Cisterna end to any extent desired.

Fifty Taking Civil Defence Staff Course

Fifty senior Island civil defence officers taking a three-day staff course at the Empress Hotel will hear addresses today by Maj. A. A. Ransom, R.C.A.; A. S. G. Musgrave, Oak Bay works superintendent; Capt. E. W. Levine, Saanich controller; Inspector S. F. M. Moodie, officer in charge of civil defence training in Canada, and Maj. H. C. Bray, Intelligence officer, Pacific Command.

Yesterday Lt.-Col. P. A. H. King, D.S.C., R.C.A.M.C., Victoria man returned from overseas, spoke on casualty services. Mr. Musgrave will speak on engineering problems, Capt. Levine on auxiliary services, and Major Bray on security.

west and beating off Japanese counter-attacks south and southwest of the town in heavy fighting.

Chinese forces driving to the west from Southwest China in a campaign designed to hook up with Stilwell's troops, seized the village of Lengshuikuo in a battle above the clouds on the lofty Mamien trail leading to Tengchung, seat of Japanese operations in Yunnan Province.

The Southeast Asia Headquarters communique said that in the Manipur hills south of Imphal the Japanese were surrounded "and eliminated" at several points, with many guns and much equipment captured.

JAPANESE BREACH SECOND LINE

CHUNGKING, May 30 (AP).—Japanese forces that landed on the southeastern shore of Lake Tungting have breached the Chinese second line of defence at the Milo River 40 miles north of Changsha, the Chinese High Command reported tonight.

Other advances were scored by the enemy on a 15-mile front against the Chinese first line of defence south of the Sinchiang River.

Enemy gains also were reported in supporting operations both east and west of Lake Tungting, in Northern Hunan Province, and field dispatches said casualties were heavy as the Chinese battled to hold the invaders from thrice-ravaged Changsha, the provincial capital.

The Japanese were estimated unofficially to have massed 12 divisions for the attempt to reconquer the whole Hankow-Canton railway, nine in the Hankow-Yochow area and three in the Canton region to the south.

Secondary Highway Status Requested

The Provincial Government will be asked to grant secondary highway status to all of Marine Drive extending as far as Sidney, following a unanimous vote last night by the Saanich Council. The drive runs through one of the richest municipalities of the Island, is one of the most scenic in the province, and a splendid tourist attraction, Reeve E. C. Warren said in commenting on the motion.

"It is in extremely good shape and would be a distinct asset to the city of Victoria and surrounding municipalities. I do not like to see Saanich slighted, and am glad you are asking the Government to give the same consideration to Saanich as was given Oak Bay," he declared, referring to a recent order in council contained in the British Columbia Gazette, which gives secondary highway status to that part of the road which lies within the municipality of Oak Bay, and is called Beach Drive.

Council decided to send copies of the motion, asking for endorsation to the city of Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt municipalities; to Sidney and the Saanich Board of Trade. "They are all vitally interested in the tourist business," Reeve Warren stated. A further rider will be added suggesting that one section, the old railway tracks, be noted as a postwar project.

Secondary highway status obligates the province to 40 per cent of costs of building and maintenance.

Officers Re-elected

Officers re-elected at a recent meeting of Victoria Dental Society were Dr. W. B. Milburn, president; Dr. W. A. MacDonald, president-elect; Dr. R. J. O'Neil, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Roy A. Johnson, Dr. P. J. Rumball and Dr. F. H. Moore, members of the executive. Golf cups and prizes were presented to Doctors Mercer, Gill, Calvert, Milburn and Capt Rylands, C.D.C. Dr. Roy Bier, Winnipeg, was guest of the evening. Dr. William Bryce exhibited colored motion pictures of the Island.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♥	Pass	Pass	1 NT
Pass	Pass	2 ♣	2 ♦
2 NT	3 ♦	Pass	Double
4 ♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's action in passing one heart was rather strange, but it must be admitted that the outcome was a triumph for South's philosophy, because he fulfilled the doubled four club contract with the greatest of ease.

I imagine that many readers will be inclined to blame West, the actual doubler, for this sorry result, but they will be barking up the wrong tree! The fact is that West was trapped, not merely by South's original pass of the heart bid, but by East's miserable raise to three diamonds. How could West tell that East had made that bid with no card higher than a jack?

Since East must have known that his own raise was stretched (to put it mildly), he should not have been so "trusting" about leaving in the double, especially since his own side was not vulnerable and therefore could not be utterly ruined at four diamonds.

This morning Chief J. H. DeGraves, Vancouver Fire Department, will speak on the work of a city fire department in a major emergency. Officers of Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay fire departments will be present.

Regional emergency welfare arrangements will be reported on by W. P. D. Pemberton in the afternoon. Inspector S. F. M. Moodie, Vancouver, officer in charge of civil defence training in Canada, and chairman of the course, will make a concluding address.

Major Ransom, Island man who commanded an anti-aircraft battery on England's south coast before returning to Canada, told of the effects of high explosives, and emphasized the importance of co-operation between civil defence personnel and the army.

Mr. Musgrave dealt with engineering problems on Lower Vancouver Island. Major Bray spoke on security. Capt. Levien discussed the powers of auxiliary police. Open discussions followed each address.

Lieut.-Col. P. A. H. King, D.F.C., R.C.A.M.C., Victoria-born man who served in the R.F.C. in the last war, told yesterday of his experiences as medical officer in London and Liverpool hospitals during the "blitz." He described the latest methods of casualty treatment, saying that the aim now was to give brief first aid treatment, then rush the casualty to hospital. Persons suffering from shock should always be regarded as in potential danger, he said.

Lieut.-Col. King, now chief examining officer at Little Mountain Camp, Vancouver, was a London doctor at the outbreak of war, and transferred to the R.C.A.M.C. after R.A.M.C. service.

Inspector A. H. Bishop, Victoria controller; Mr. Musgrave, Oak Bay controller; Capt. Levien, Saanich; H. W. V. Pecknold, Esquimalt; H. C. Palmer, View Royal, and F. J. Baker, Sidney, headed representatives from those districts.

Other districts represented were Sooke, by D. J. DeRochie, chief warden, and the Malahat, by Harry G. Webber, chairman. Representatives of city and district engineering and fire departments, and a number of doctors, were among those present. Dr. G. A. B. Hall, chief St. John Ambulance surgeon for British Columbia, was present.

Police Raises Stand Intact

With Police Commissioners Mrs. M. D. Christie and B. J. Gadsden standing by their earlier decision, and Mayor Andrew McGavin, commission chairman, still voicing his opposition to the plan, salary increases from $97.85 to $115 per month for probationary constables, and a 10 per cent increase in salary for all other members of the department, from third class constables to the chief of police, were left intact following a meeting of the police commission yesterday.

The commission had before it a letter from the City Council asking that the salary question be reconsidered, and that salary increases for members of the department be made to conform to the City Council's recent decision to grant the employees in various departments of the civic service a 6 per cent increase retroactive to January 1.

Commenting on the letter, Mayor Andrew McGavin said it made no difference, as the commission had settled salary increases, and nothing could be done.

The Mayor ruled Commissioner Gadsden out of order when he asked that a letter be read addressed to the chairman and members of the commission outlining his (Gadsden's) position with reference to the salary question.

CHARGES COMMISSIONER WITH SEEKING PUBLICITY

Mayor McGavin charged the commissioner with "trying to get some publicity," and Commissioner Gadsden objected very strongly to the chairman's remarks. When the commissioner protested again, the Mayor still refused to allow the letter to be read, and said the salary question had been settled. The communication was finally received and filed.

James Bay Parent-Teacher Association wrote the commission requesting full enforcement of the curfew by-law, and on motion of Commissioner M. D. Christie will be advised that the police are doing their best to see that the order is being carried out.

RACING OFFICIAL PASSES

NEW YORK, May 30 (AP)—Jimmy Loftus, 41, vice-president of the New York Turf Writers' Association and publicity director at Garden State (N.J.) Race Park, died Saturday at the Harkness Pavilion after three weeks' illness. He was born in Canada and attended school in Montreal.

Welfare Association

The monthly meeting of the Family Welfare Association was held at Welfare House recently, with E. H. Wilson, president, in the chair.

The financial report was given by N. F. Ferris, treasurer, and the statistical report was presented by the general secretary, Mrs. A. I. Spurgin. A marked upward trend in the number of families approaching the agency for help was noted. More than five hundred visits had been made and interviews held during April.

Arrangements were made for a special meeting of the board in connection with the proposed club for aged people. This meeting is scheduled for Thursday at 5 o'clock.

Keen appreciation was expressed of the report on the Canadian Welfare Conference, given by Ord Butters. Mr. Butters stated that he had been impressed by the sincere outlook of all those attending the conference. The intelligent interest shown in the problems facing Canada in the postwar period was encouraging, when it was taken into account that the 623 delegates attending the conference represented welfare agencies distributed throughout the length and breadth of the country. Mrs. C. D. Schofield expressed the hope that the findings of the conference would be carefully studied, and from these channels further action might be directed.

No Longer Require Willows Buildings

Stating that the buildings are no longer required for military purposes, Maj-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, G.O.C. in chief, Pacific Command, Vancouver, has written the City Council seeking termination of the lease covering the rental of city-owned buildings and certain prop-tary authorities.

Under terms of an agreement drawn up November 1, 1942, military authorities leased five buildings and certain property from the city for a rental of $800 a month. The agreement came into effect February 1, 1943.

The five buildings under lease to the army are the manufacturer's, women's, restaurant, dog show buildings and the Sports Centre. The latter building has since been destroyed by fire, together with the ice arena.

Pioneer Lawyer Passes Suddenly

W. J. Taylor, K.C., Quadra Street, well-known Victoria lawyer, race horse enthusiast and former city counsel, dropped dead at 12:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the corner of Quadra and Cormorant Streets. He was 85 years old.

Born in Belleville, Ontario, he had been practising here for 50 years, and was a partner in the firm of Eberts and Taylor, later forming a partnership with W. A. Bremner, dissolved in 1927 after 14 years. As counsel for the city, Mr. Taylor defended the corporation against suits which followed the collapse of Point Ellice Bridge in 1896. The claims for damages went to the Privy Council. Mr. Taylor appeared before the Privy Council on six different occasions, including several times when he acted for the Dunsmuir coal interests.

Before the last war he had his own race track at the 600-acre Mallowmot Farm in North Saanich, where he bred and trained his horses, earning a reputation as one of the chief horse breeders on the Pacific Coast.

Surviving are two daughters, Miss M. Taylor, Victoria, and Mrs. Edith Ponton; one son in Florida, and two granddaughters. Hayward's B.C. Funeral Home are in charge of funeral arrangements which will be announced later.

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that I paid $5.00 for a haircut and $50.00 for a pair of cardboard shoes. I dreamed that we had no wartime controls on prices, profits or wages, and that we hadn't had the sense to organize the distribution of supplies all the way down the line . . .

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money and spending it, prices were skyrocketing.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales . . . with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher . . .

panicky people were buying things they didn't need, and hoarding everything they could get their hands on . . .

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money . . . and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

with everybody for himself . . . no matter what it cost in the long run . . . and no matter how it hurt the war effort.

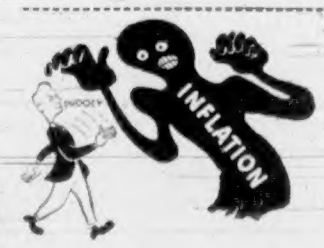

THEN...THANK GOODNESS—I WOKE UP!

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable . . . where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to realize that without the safeguards that have headed off inflation, my nightmare might have become a reality!

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm . . . and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fancied advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.

This advertisement is the seventh of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

Distinction Comes to Nanaimo-Born Canadian Poet

Audrey Alexandra Brown, one of Canada's best poets has received further recognition of her exceptional talent in the presentation, by the Royal Society of Canada, of the Lorne Pierce Medal, an award made for some achievement in imaginative, or critical, literature of special significance.

Audrey, who makes her home at present in Victoria, and has stayed at the Y.W.C.A. for the past eight years, was born in Nanaimo, and is proud of the fact that she is [illegible] her forebears were British stock. "Mother came from London," she related last night in talking to The Colonist, "and father's family were English." This she explained when she related the late Sir Robert Borden had written to her inquiring if hers was not Celtic ancestry, to account for the imaginative quality that is so pronounced in her poetry. Sir Robert also sent her a cheque for $100, admonishing her to buy herself a typewriter—the kind she most preferred—and the poet, smilingly, pointed to her machine that she affectionately terms "Sir Robert."

Miss Brown is happy at the news of the presentation of the Lorne Pierce Medal, and frankly admits her surprise at its bestowal. "I really don't know much about it," she said. "You see it was so far out of my ken that I never dreamed it would come to me, and so,—" she left unfinished her precise thought.

A WRITER AT SIX YEARS

All her life Audrey has been a writer. When a child of six she was happiest with pencil. "I preferred writing to a box of chocolates," she laughingly admitted, "but it was just so much practice." Then she continued: "I wanted to be a novelist, and a poet on the off-side. I can't remember when I did not want to write. If all I have written could be joined end to end it would go a number of times around the world!

"Life," continued the poet, "does not fit me to be a writer of fiction. I need wider knowledge of life than I have been able to have. I still care more for prose than poetry," said the author of one prose work, "Log of a Lame Duck," while her books of poetry are numerous. "Dryad in Nanaimo," which overnight placed Audrey Alexandra Brown in the forefront with poets of high standing, was followed by "Tree of Resurrection" and "Challenge to Time and Death."

Some one once asked Audrey to promise to continue to write "the same way." It was a sincere compliment, but the far-seeing author replied: "If you always wrote the same way, it would mean stagnation!" She expatiated on this theme: "There is a kind of poetry which belongs with youth. The kind of poetry young poets write, and I call it 'petal poetry,' for it is like the fruit trees in blossom, only some of the beautiful petals bear fruit. It is all beautiful and belongs to a certain phase, and it is only after it has gone we know whether it was fruitful, the sort of stuff you live by, so to speak."

Audrey Alexandra Brown, with four books to her credit, and now the Lorne Pierce Medal as an added distinction, ruefully admits that in filling out a questionnaire, her academic qualifications would not rate high. "I have had very little schooling," she points out. "Mother was to have been a governess, and grounded all of us (the family, three boys and two girls) and I was a terrific reader and got my education out of books.

THE SOLARIUM AND A MIRACLE

Illness played a part in the young author's life, for at 21 she suffered a rheumatic illness. For eight and a half years she neither walked nor stood, and her only means of transportation was a little chair fitted with wheels in which she moved herself from place to place. At that particular time Senator and Mrs. H. G. Barnard, who had heard of the brilliant young author through the late Hon. Martin Burrell, sought her out in her Nanaimo home, and eventually Audrey was given an honorary membership on the staff of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, where from November, 1934, to September, 1935, she taught Sunday school and told the little patients fairy stories. "I don't believe anybody in the world knows more fairy stories," she admitted. There a miracle happened, for today Miss Brown has regained her health and can walk with ease and unsupported.

A job is what this young author craves, "it would mean such a lot to me to know I am pulling my weight," she confided. "I worked for a month in a Victory Loan campaign, and it felt so wonderful to be doing a job! At present Audrey is happy in teaching Sunday school at Christ Church Cathedral, and is a candidate for the choir. "That has been the greatest happiness I have had in my whole life—and I have only been to two choir practices so far."

PROSE AND POETRY

The way in which Audrey differentiates between prose and poetry is interesting. She has this to say: "In writing poetry you have to be keyed up, and maintain a pitch—like a violin—and you are always afraid the pitch may stop. Of course it never does, but you think it may. Whereas in prose you are just taut enough to enjoy it!"

"Poetry," Audrey explained, "comes formed into my mind, and I almost never go over it. It would make a labor of it," she added. Critics often remark that the author must spend months polishing a line, or presenting the most graceful sequence to a line. This, she refutes. Critics also refer repeatedly to her great love of nature, whereas the poet insists she is "more interested in people." She relates: "Only one critic has seen through this, that my love of nature is a background for the people who move against it are the ones that appeal to me."

Asked her plans concerning the future, Audrey was non-committal, but her outlook showed her faith and her returning health are giving her full support. She said: "I feel there is work ahead. My writing is only an introduction to it; when it comes I will be ready for it!"

Presiding at W.I. Convention

MRS. B. F. GUMMOW

VANCOUVER, May 30 (CP).—Co-operation between rural and urban populations, resulting in better understanding of the former's problems, will be necessary if the post-war world is to attain the high standard projected in the new planning, Mrs. B. F. Gummow, of Peachland, Provincial president of Women's Institutes, said at the Provincial convention of Women's Institutes here today.

There must be civic improvement, better facilities for country districts and better rural educational standards that boys and girls in country districts may not be handicapped by their location, Mrs. Gummow said.

She urged institute members, who represented 181 groups throughout the province, to continue their present efforts "for home and country."

Regarding immigration, Mrs. Gummow said that welcome for new Canadians had always been a part of the W.I. programme. She advocated establishment of a scholarship fund whereby a deserving rural girl might attend the University of British Columbia to take the home economics course.

Continued efforts should be made to secure better accommodation for old people, Mrs. Gummow said.

World Nutrition Being Studied

What is one man's meat is another man's poison, inferred Dr. Lionel Bradley Pett, Director of Nutrition Services at Ottawa, as he spoke of a possible world nutrition programme at the Empress Hotel on Tuesday evening. This leading nutrition expert addressed a meeting sponsored by the Victoria Nutrition Committee and the Victoria Home Economists.

Milk for all children in Canada would be an indisputable asset to the maintenance of health standards, stated Dr. Pett. Whereas in China it would have to be soya bean milk for the children, as cow's milk, unknown to the seething population as a food, would have to be introduced through a vast educational scheme. In the Netherlands East Indies a food similar to milk would be fermented peanuts. With these examples he stressed the importance of a world conference to be formed in order to study the nutritional needs of each country so that all men in all lands would have adequate food.

Nutrition is such an important subject that in November, 1941, Dr. Pett, then professor of bio-chemistry at the University of Alberta, was called to Ottawa to accept his present position as director of Canada's nutrition.

"Just such voluntary organizations as the Victoria Nutrition Committee" said Dr. Pett, "submitting their findings about Canadians not eating the right food to the Federal Government made them realize the urgency of the situation. He remarked that so many rejections into the armed forces could be based on malnutrition. "I have been asked so many times what the individual Canadian can do to improve the population's nutrition habits," he said. "The answer is to examine your own diet. If for only one week follow the score sheet obtained from the Department of Health and fix up your own eating habits. Then give demonstrations of how a few extra foods will make such a difference to the health of an individual."

Dr. Pett spoke of recent meetings of the U.N.R.R.A. in Atlantic City and at Hot Springs, Virginia, where nations were represented to plan for a better nutritional world. "It was very thrilling to realize that by the end of the conference a plan had been outlined whereby an international food policy could be accomplished. The Victoria Nutrition Committee will be part of this world organization that will enable each country to have a food scheme to help that particular country.

"Within the next three years trained health nutritionists will be in great demand and a plan is being outlined to familiarize the people with this vocation and a wage scale is being set," concluded Dr. Pett.

Miss Mary Baldwin, nutrition adviser for the province, introduced Dr. Pett to the meeting.

Gifts Sent to Mine Sweepers

The Victoria depot of the Royal Naval War Comforts Committee has received a letter from the Missions to Seamen, London headquarters. The secretary, Miss B. D. Gardiner, says: "April 28, Case No. 39 arrived safely this afternoon and the chief contents are 72 pairs Mellor gloves, 20 pairs seaboot stockings, 19 jerseys, 10 helmets and 160 pairs of socks. We are most grateful to you and your helpers for these useful and welcome gifts which will be greatly appreciated by the recipients. Please note that there is no demand now for "turtle necks" and I should be glad if you would not send any more. We are also not needing any more helmets for the present as we have ample supplies and the demand for them has decreased considerably."

Following on this letter workers are requested to cease sending turtle necks and helmets. This also applies to scarves. But socks are needed urgently. Jerseys are much on call, with high collars and long sleeves. The yellow-topped caps are still in demand. Chest No. 41 was sent off about a week ago, and No. 40 is now on its way on the Atlantic.

Fish Croquettes

The French call them "CROQUETTES" . . . the English call them "fish cakes". But regardless of what you want to call them, here's a new "ration-saver" recipe that the whole family will like.

Mix 2 medium-sized, cooked, mashed potatoes with 1½ cups of shredded codfish, ¾ of a cup of milk, 2 beaten eggs and 1 tablespoon of H. P. Sauce. Form into small cakes and fry in fat until golden brown.

Be sure to use H. P. You'll be surprised at the appetizing difference this fine, old English thick sauce gives to foods. People the world over will tell you what a difference a dash of H. P. Sauce makes when served with meats, fish, stews, salads, fowl, soups, etc.

What Today Means

GEMINI

If May 31 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

Today many people will be wise to let money be of secondary importance to them and their health of primary consideration, for it will be through the ignoring of physical conditions that many ailments will owe their origin. Just bear in mind "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." Today the average person had better make good use of his time. Those who have a lot of it to spare, through either bad planning or none at all, are likely to find themselves getting involved in some kind of trouble. It will be advisable to think twice before saying "yes" once to any kind of question, for through overly hasty acquiescence, affirmation, or agreement, many a person is going to get himself into a lot of hot water, especially if they are married, engaged, or seriously in love.

If a woman and May 31 is your birthday, unless you are careful you may change through business responsibilities from a very placid easy-going person to one inclined to be severe and, at times, inclined to be impatient. You should at all times endeavor to practice self-restraint, especially when you are dealing with subordinates. If you expect to be happy, you must never permit yourself to be lacking in sentiment and you should demonstrate it whenever it is possible. You will be greatly benefited if you make it a point to devote a certain amount of time to the reading of good books and periodicals. As a news reporter, fiction writer, scientific research worker, doctor, lawyer, teacher, trained nurse, dietician, restaurant operator, business manager, sales agent, musician, singer, artist, actress, interior decorator, designer, or through doing your part to help offset the existing labor shortage, you may make an enviable reputation and income. A congenial marriage should be conducive to your enjoying an exceptional amount of nuptial happiness.

The child born on May 31 unless trained to do whatever it has to do promptly runs the danger of getting into the habit of being extremely dilatory. This youngster should be impressed with the idea that "procrastination is the thief of time," and is invariably a great handicap to anyon's chance of achieving a high degree of success. With the proper regard for the discharging of responsibilities, Gemini youngsters should have no trouble in eventually making a worthwhile record for themselves in their chosen professions.

If a man and May 31 is your natal day, you must constantly guard against letting a fine mind go to seed through neglecting to use it. Never permit a fondness for sports to absorb too much of your time or cause you to forget there is such a thing as intellectual development. Your best chances for achieving success will be through mental rather than physical achievements, especially if you are a skilled mechanic, engineer, inventor, theologian, dentist, physician, jurist, journalist, author, actor, business executive, salesman, musician, painter, manufacturer, financier, promoter, railroad man, soldier, sailor, or aviator.

Visiting Prelate Guest at Banquet

Bishop Paul Yu-pin, Vicar Apostolic of Nanking, China, who was met by Most Rev. John C. Cody, D.D., Bishop of Victoria, and a delegation from the Chinese colony on his arrival in Victoria Monday was entertained at a banquet at St. Joseph's Hospital by the Sisters of St. Ann.

In the evening the Bishop officiated at Pontifical Benediction at St. Andrew's Cathedral, assisted by Rev. Geoffrey Penfold, chancellor of Victoria, and Rev. D. Johnson. Bishop Cody was in the sanctuary, attended by Rev. A. McLellan and Rev. A. Leonard, chaplains.

Bishop Yu-pin spoke of a five-point plan for modernizing China. That great country was ready for Christianity, and was developing fast, he said. The Chinese National Anthem was sung at the close of the beautiful Pontifical ceremony.

Following this, Bishop Yu-pin was entertained by the Chinese colony and was greeted by representatives of the various Chinese societies in the city. He praised their fine contribution to the war effort and urged them to continue. He expressed his great pleasure at meeting old friends again and said he was particularly glad to greet Bishop Cody once more.

To Ask Views on Health Insurance

Hon. George S. Pearson, Provincial Secretary, will be asked to give his views on health insurance to the next meeting of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference. The request was made by the conference at a recent meeting in the Trades and Labor Hall after R. F. Williams reported on an interview with J. Y. Fisher, assistant deputy minister of finance, following the return of the [illegible] from Ottawa. Mr. Williams expressed the belief it would be some time before a national health scheme would be in operation.

The conference expressed dissatisfaction with a letter from the City Council replying to representations on inspection of restaurants.

It was decided to press the City Council for regular inspections of restaurants. This action was taken after receipt of a letter from the council replying to recent representations and enclosing a report on restaurant inspections in June, 1943. It was felt the report was out of date.

The conference endorsed views expressed by labor delegates at the meeting which on Saturday set up a committee to approach the City Council with suggestions for a municipally-owned ice arena.

Reply of the Minister of Naval Affairs to a letter suggesting that a destroyer contract be given to a Victoria firm was referred to Yarrows, Ltd.

Reporting on a meeting of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, Mr. Williams outlined various undertakings of that group. He asked for submission of any cases of dissatisfaction of demobilized men and women, so that their cases might be taken up with the committee.

Mr. Wilkinson described the meeting in Vancouver on May 6 of the British Columbia Industrial Reconstruction Council.

A committee consisting of D. Fitzgerald, W. B. Caird, Mr. Williams, Mr. Wilkinson, C. W. Marshall, C. C. Chivers, H. A. Allison and R. Simmons was drafted to make plans for calling a citizens' rehabilitation conference embracing all organizations in Victoria and adjoining areas.

Mr. Allison reported the establishment of a joint transportation workers' conference in Victoria. Mr. Simmons, of the I.W.A., stated organization of woodworkers had been almost completed, and certification for bargaining rights was in progress.

Credentials for D. Fitzgerald, W. White, F. H. Dyke, J. Cosgrove and J. L. Martin, of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' Union, were received.

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

THE DAY'S ROUNDUP

The mail was comparatively heavy again yesterday. Two more letters arrived from fans and readers of this column regarding the baseball problem, which appear down below, while two came in from the Old Country. One was from Chief Petty Officer Burgess Berry, former local all-round athlete, and the other from Lieut. Ralph Cosier, who starred on the football field with Victoria United and other clubs and, who was equally at home on the softball and baseball diamonds and the basketball courts. Some of the news these two popular boys sent from across the Atlantic will appear in this column in the near future. It is interesting, so keep your peepers glued to the left-hand side of this page and you will find it . . . Received a phone call from the mother of Capt Paul Rowe, another of Victoria's famous athletes before hostilities started, and she was telling me that the ex-gridiron star and track and field performer competed in a recent meet in the Old Country and he captured the century dash, broad jump and the shotput. "Not bad for a young veteran, and another thing, Mother, I am still eating like a horse," Paul said in his letter . . . Coach Archie McKinnon and members of the Flying "Y" track and field team are rather jubilant over the showing the boys made in Vancouver on Victoria Day. They are high in praise over the way the boilermakers ran their successful meeting. Their generous prize list was also a source of much comment in the "Y" camp, who have already promised Doug Franks, big-hearted promoter for the boilermakers, that they will be on hand for another meet on Labor Day.

Tonight's game:

6:30—Army vs. Navy, Royal Athletic Park.

Seeking revenge for the 4-2 setback they received at the hands of the Navy in the season's opener, Army baseballers will return to Royal Athletic Park this evening to meet the undefeated sailors in a scheduled McGavin Cup baseball fixture.

Troops displayed plenty of power at the plate in their last performance at the Caledonia Avenue lot by poking out 17 base hits against the Flyers, and with their bats still loaded, have visions of giving the bluejackets plenty of trouble.

Lanky Jimmy Ingamells, former Hamilton, Ont., pitcher, who hurled a three-hitter against the troops in their last meeting, appears to be the probable mound choice in the sailor camp, with Sparrow or Parkins doing the receiving.

Army selection for mound duty will probably be between "Speedballer" Lloyd Conn and George Marvelude, with Emard or Kourie doing the chores back of home plate.

Victory for the sailors will enable them to keep pace with the V.M.D., while a triumph for the troops will boost them into a third-place tie with the idle birdmen.

Programme Is Out For Colorful Card

Many Events Arranged for Big Show at Armoury on Saturday—Fighters All Set

One of the most colorful programmes, one which will be intermingled with first-class boxing, dancing girls, roller skating acts, a floor show, selections from the Temple Shrine Band and various other performances, will be presented to the local public next Saturday night at the Bay Street Armoury, under the direction of the Rangers. Proceeds from the show will be turned over to the Royal Jubilee Hospital Maternity Building Fund. Hundreds of citizens are expected to jam the big building to the rafters, for there won't be a dull moment all evening and, after all, it is for a worthy cause, one which certainly deserves the public's support 100 per cent. The doors will be thrown open at 7 o'clock and the first event is scheduled to commence at 8 o'clock.

Ten bouts have been arranged and there will be plenty of gloves flying from the first fight to the main event between Ron Whalley, of Camrose and New Westminster, recent winner of the Canadian Army light-heavyweight championship, and Hank Egli, Royal Canadian Air Force scrapper, inter-service titleholder of the Pacific Command. Other well-known boxers who will appear on the card are Bobby Parker, Victoria bantamweight, who reached the finals in the Eastern tournament; G. Powell, soldier lightweight, winner of the Golden Gloves and inter-service honors; Li Pitrie, from the R.C.A.F.; DiSalvo; Hiram Berry, colored lad, who fought professional under the name of Herman Jackson before enlisting, and several others.

Louis Callan and Albie Davies will referee the card, while the name of Lester Patrick, vice-president of Madison Square Garden and manager of the New York Rangers Hockey Club, who just returned from the East, was added to the list of fight judges. He will work some of the arguments along with Ted Beales. Sid Beech and Kenny Lindsay will handle the others.

Colonist Trophy Match Is a Tie

Victoria and Oak Bay High Schools' soccer teams battled to a 1-1 overtime draw in The Colonist Cup final played yesterday afternoon at Heywood Avenue, and as a result, will each hold the coveted trophy for a six months' period.

Oak Bay set up a 1-0 lead on a first-half goal by Russell Latham, and held this slim advantage until fifteen minutes before the end of the match, when Ronnie Webster fired home the equalized.

Victoria High School was defending the trophy.

Charlie Lewis refereed.

Lacrosse Game Tied

First lacrosse game of the season was held last night at Stevenson's Memorial Park and it ended with the Bays and Murdies battling to a 7-7 overtime deadlock after an interesting battle. Murdies scored the first goal through Clark, but the Bays ran in four markers without a return, Langdon with two, Green and Murdock with one each. Monahan scored Murdies in the second period and Stewart replied for the Bays. The teams fought back and forth in the last two periods and also in the overtime, but failed to break the dealock at the final whistle.

The Bruce No. 1 boasted a catch of 22,000 pounds of halibut and 5,000 pounds of cod. More than 44,000 pounds of halibut were landed at Prince Rupert.

Commissioner on Visit to Coast

Hon. David Wilson, newly-appointed High Commissioner to Canada from New Zealand, arrived here Monday morning and inspected the R.C.A.F. station at Patricia Bay. He was accompanied by W. L. Middleman, private secretary; Group Capt. T. W. White and Flt. Lieut. F. W. G. Drake, aides.

He was formerly leader of the Legislative Council, or New Zealand Senate, Minister of National Defence, Immigration and Broadcasting.

Speaking of the N.Z.A.F. air crew trainees in Canada, he said: "I must say that I am greatly impressed by the efficient manner in which the R.C.A.F. is looking after the welfare of our lads. Canada is doing a magnificent job. I thought I knew what Canada was doing in the war effort before I came here, but I am impressed more than ever by what I have seen."

Of the New Zealand war effort, he declared: "New Zealand has the highest percentage of servicemen in the armed forces compared with the other nations of the British Commonwealth. She also has the highest casualty rate in killed, wounded or missing, per head of population of any of the United Nations, with exception of Russia. Industrially, New Zealand is producing foodstuffs for the American and New Zealand forces in the South Pacific; sending army clothing to India for troops on the India-Burma front, and turning out Bren gun carriers and munitions for the army."

Sports Held Up-Island

Various Schools Stage Big Meet

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, May 30.—Seven schools of the district receiving from Koksilah to Mill Bay joined forces at the Fairbridge [illegible] Lower Island Rural School Sports meet. The schools represented were Bench, Cowichan Station, Fairbridge, Koksilah, Mill Bay, Shawnigan Lake and Sylvania.

Competition for the cup was keen, with the result in doubt during the morning events. During the afternoon, however, Fairbridge forged ahead and established a lead which gave the farm school first place, with Shawnigan Lake second and Koksilah third. The trophy, which is known as the Lower Island Rural School Sports Aggregate Cup, was donated several years ago by the sports day committee, and is emblematic of the highest score, by points, in proportion to the entries from each school.

Events were run off quickly and efficiently, due mainly to the co-operation of teachers, committee, judges, starters and recorders. The spacious grounds at Fairbridge and the hospitality and assistance of the farm school staff were additional factors to the success of the day.

At the close of the events, the trophy was presented to H. T. Logan, principal of Fairbridge School, by R. P. Weber, chairman of the Shawnigan Lake School Board. In charge of arrangements were, J. Gillatt, chairman; C. E. Burbridge, grounds manager, and Miss E. Miles, secretary. R. Ross acted as starter assisted by R. P. Weber. Miss Jane Williamson and Miss Mary Schofield acted as recorders, while the judging was done by teachers, committee members and others. A public address system was used to great advantage during the day.

Immediately following the sports Cobble Hill High School played an exhibition softball game with the Duncan Olympic Club, resulting in a decided win for the latter.

Results of the sports were as follows:

Key to schools as used below—C.S., Cowichan Station; B., Bench; F., Fairbridge; K., Koksilah; M.B., Mill Bay; S.L., Shawnigan Lake; S., Sylvania.

Challenges Statement

Chief Peter Ross, of the Songhees Tribe, yesterday challenged the statements of other chiefs and tribal representatives made at a meeting of the Society for the Furtherance of British Columbia Indian Arts and Crafts last week.

At the meeting, Simon Pierre, of Hammond, was reported to have said that the Indians did not want the vote as most of them were not ready for it, or ready to accept the responsibilities and privileges that it would entail.

"We, the Indians of the Songhees band, would like to let the general public know," Chief Ross said, "that we were not represented at that meeting, and that Simon Pierre, of Hammond, does not represent our thoughts. He was not delegated to speak for the tribes of Victoria, and we differ with everything he said."

LONDON (CP) — Hedeh Guest, M.P., told an audience at Walthamstow that one of Britain's most efficient hospitals for maternity treatment was an army hospital which had a lower percentage of deaths from childbirth than any in the country.

Research Replaces Intuition

Chief function of "marketing research" is to step in and correct the errors in business decisions which have been arrived at by a combination of judgment and intuition, and to chart a profitable course for a firm, Walter E. Elliott, Toronto, president of Elliott-Haynes, Ltd., opinion investigators, told Kiwanians at their weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"There was a time when businessmen used a combination of judgment and intuition to solve their problems and gauge public response. Hitler's mistaken reliance on intuition did not help. Now business is using a combination of sound judgment and research. A test of executive opinions formulated in the old way showed they were right only 58 per cent of the time. Marketing research prevented the 42 per cent of errors," he declared.

Four years ago business had devoted only one-tenth of 1 per cent to opinion research, now it spends approximately 1½ per cent. Mr. Elliott outlined the handling of business problems from analysis of the problem to rechecking of questionnaires and the final tabulation. He told of how they had actually increased the sales of one retail florist by checking the files of newspapers and listing marriage and birthday anniversaries of some 4,500 persons. It was then a simple problem of contacting the prospects on the appropriate date, and sales were increased by 12 per cent.

Another case showed the formidable power wielded by the press, the speaker stated. This concerned a Ukrainian hall owned and used by Communists which was sold by the Federal Government when the party was banned. A poll revealed that not 2 per cent of the people knew of the matter. Later, in 1941, when Russia was attacked, a movement, supported by a newspaper, was started for the return of the hall to the Communists, and public knowledge grew by leaps and bounds. Within ten months more than 50 per cent of the public knew of and favored restoration.

Opinion research showed also that people gave the reasons advanced editorially by the newspaper in support of its stand. Research by Drs. M. N. Chappell and Carl A. Dreppard had helped a magazine formulate a policy and develop its "personality" to the extent that it doubled its circulation and its advertising, Mr. Elliott stated.

M. V. Chesnut introduced the opinion expert, and Alastair Campbell moved the vote of thanks. Forrest L. Shaw, president, was chairman.

Injured in Crash

Late yesterday afternoon a car driven by Theodore Belcombe, 1003 Hillside Avenue, was in collision with a southbound street car at the corner of Langford and Catherine Streets. Considerable damage was done to the automobile and Belcome was taken home by the police, suffering from shock and bruises.

City and District

Motorists Fined—Nine motorists paid fines amounting to $37.50 in city police court yesterday on parking, speeding and no driver's licence charge.

Consulate Moves—The American Consulate will in future be located on the third floor of the Belmont Building, having vacated their premises for the convenience of the ration office of W.P.T.B.

Grass Fire — Oak Bay firemen were called out to a grass fire at Beach Drive and Newport Avenue at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and fought the conflagration for 30 minutes.

Intoxication Charges—One man was fined $25 when he appeared in city police court yesterday and pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication, and two other men similarly charged had their bail of $25 each estreated when they failed to appear.

Charge Dismissed—L. Sdr. Frank A. Magdalin, R.C.A., was found not guilty by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday on a charge of having a forged bank note in his possession. Defendant was represented by P. J. Sinnott.

Prices Board—Wartime Prices and Trade Board will close its present quarters on View Street tonight and will open at the Belmont Building tomorrow morning. The ration and tire and rubber control offices will be on the ground floor facing Humboldt Street, where the American Consulate has been located. This will provide greater convenience for the public and especially for mothers wheeling baby carriages. Rentals, fuel and general offices will be located on the third floor.

Holiday Work—Several Victoria College students have already been placed in temporary Summer jobs, and more than 100 high school students have filed applications for the holiday period, National Selective Service officials said yesterday. The boys are entering priority industries. The Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor Board reports high school and college students are registering for berry picking in fair numbers, and a few are asking for general farm labor.

New Resident—C. F. Seymour, of Helena, Montana, arrived recently in Victoria with the intention of becoming a resident. He will either build or buy a house, but has not yet decided what district he prefers. Mr. Seymour first became interested in the city from literature sent him by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau last year and followed it up with careful inquiries. Like many others he has found this the ideal location for a permanent home, George I. Warren said yesterday.

Land Sales—In reply to a memorandum from Penticton, Summerland and Oliver branches of the Canadian Legion protesting sales of 700 acres of Cawston Bench lands to private interests for hop growing, Government officials stated yesterday that success of the 1,000,000-acre soldiers' land rehabilitation project would not be jeopardized by sales to individuals. The Legion branches demanded that the sales be stopped at once and that the land be reserved for postwar rehabilitation projects.

Postwar Planning — Establishment of a committee to co-ordinate plans for postwar construction of civic buildings is urged by the Victoria Library Board in a letter received yesterday at the City Hall. The communication also suggests that a specialist in town planning be appointed to the committee. In any planning of a city hall, new schools, libraries, art galleries, auditoriums and recreation centre, the needs of the community as a whole and the specific needs in each department are of the utmost importance, the letter adds.

Pleads Guilty to Uniform Charge

James Francis Dennis Fleming, a civilian, was remanded until today for sentence, after pleading guilty in city police court yesterday to charges of masquerading in the uniform of a flight lieutenant of the Royal Canadian Air Force and wearing the D.F.C. and the North African Star.

Fl. Lt. G. G. Foolkes, D.A.P.M., R.C.A.F., told the court that Fleming was apprehended by a sergeant of the R.C.A.F. police on the evening of May 29, dressed in the uniform of a flight lieutenant. Subsequently taken to Patricia Bay, Fleming, after questioning, admitted he was masquerading and was not entitled to wear the uniform. Accused had no identification papers on him at the time other than a birth certificate showing Alberta as his place of birth, the officer stated.

Asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, Fleming told the court that he had served three months in the United States Coast Artillery and had since been discharged. He had two brothers overseas, and a third about to be drafted by the United States, he stated. "The only reason I am wearing this uniform is that I have no home. I do not care to see my folks. I have no job, but am doing all right and mean to get a job. I have a girl and I love her, and that is why I am wearing this uniform," Fleming added.

Veterans Greeted

Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, has addressed the following birthday greetings to members of the Veterans' Guard of Canada:

"The Veterans' Guard of Canada was formed at the request of War Veterans of World War I to give them the chance they asked for to serve in World War II.

"On May 24 the Veterans' Guard of Canada celebrated its fourth anniversary. Today the strength of this fine corps is approximately 11,000 all ranks.

"The readiness of the men of Mons, Ypres, Vimy, Passchendaele, Amiens, Cambrai and Valenciennes to serve again is abundantly understood. It came from the spirit of devotion to duty and the loyalty which burns just as steadily as ever in the hearts of that great company who had already in those earlier days put the old Canadian Corps high up on the roll of the world's fighting soldiers.

"To you on this anniversary I express Canada's everlasting appreciation of the service you are again giving to our country. I congratulate you on the fine example you are showing to younger men. It must add to your satisfaction to feel that it is your lead which they follow in manning the battlefronts on sea, land and air, in this new fight to free the world of gangsters and despots.

"I sincerely wish for you and for them more power and great success."

Joins Kiwanis Club

Among the luncheon guests were Roland Miller, president of Walla Walla Kiwanians; J. Goode, London, Ontario; and W. Hensworth, Vancouver.

TRUE STORIES OF CANADIAN WAR HEROES

By GORDON SINCLAIR
Internationally-famous journalist and author of several best-selling books on war and travel.

ONE BRIDGE ...COMING UP!

ENGINEERS can build and engineers can fight and some do both with calm bravery.

On a hot night during the Battle of Sicily an Alberta regiment, charging into the town of Leonforte, heard and saw a bridge blown up behind them.

Reinforcement or withdrawal were equally impossible until that bridge was repaired. Defending Germans fought savagely from every building.

Sergeant Russell McPhee of Montreal, and 35 men of the Royal Canadian Engineers, moved forward with wire, planks, tree trunks, scantlings and steel to rebuild that shattered span.

Working in darkness under fire McPhee had the bridge two-thirds finished when the Nazis attacked.

Picking up a Tommy gun the sergeant led his men to a head-on counter attack in which they killed eight Germans, wounded another eight and captured 16. Except for the walking wounded who went back to their job, Canadian losses were small. The bridge was repaired before dawn.

But McPhee was not yet finished.

Hearing that a scouting party was to precede the advance he volunteered to help. This was no job for an engineer who had spent the night building bridges and fighting hand to hand, but McPhee went anyway, spotted a Nazi gun position, flashed its location and huddled behind boulders while that position was pulverized by Canadian guns.

Aside from a well earned decoration, Sergeant Russell McPhee was labelled, "The perfect non-commissioned officer."

In Italy, in the air over Germany, and on the high seas, Canadians are fighting to finish the war. On the home front, from the day of the invasion to the day of final victory, Canadians will continue their all-out production of war materials. Here, at United Distillers, our entire facilities are devoted to the production of high-test alcohol—vital constituent of explosives, synthetic rubber and other war materials. We count ourselves fortunate that through our plant facilities and our specialized knowledge in this field, we are making this contribution to final victory.

Aletern Is Home First

Captures $50,000 Handicap Classic

NEW YORK, May 30 (AP).—Taking advantage of his light weight, A. C. Aletern sped over the mile and a quarter in 2:01 1-5 today to whip the highly regarded Sun Again in the 58th Suburban Handicap as attendance and betting records were hung up at Belmont Park.

The Cleveland-owned five-year-old, turning in the fastest time for the race since Whisk Broom II set a world record of two minutes flat in 1913, hit the finish line a half-length in front of Sun Again from Warren Wright's Calumet Stable to take the purse of $39,300. Ernst was enriched by an additional $5,000 when his Alquest won third place, five lengths back of the favored Sun Again.

The crowd of 52,029, exceeding by 18 the previous high set May 30, 1942, bet $580,309 on the Suburban for a state record for one race and sent the total for the eight races soaring to $3,559,097. Various war relief organizations and hospitals split the track's profits, estimated at $130,000.

The handicap was robbed of some of its interest when Devil Diver, outstanding challenger for the division's title, was scratched because of a sore foot.

Second choice in the wagering the Ernst combination paid $8.30, $3.30 and $4.00 across the board, while Sun Again returned $2.90 to place and $2.50 to show.
